Overview

Between Samarkand and Bukhara lies a different Uzbekistan: walnut-shaded mountain villages in the Nuratau range, the sands of the Kyzylkum and the long blue lake of Aydarkul.

This private three-day trip replaces the usual highway transfer with a night at a village guesthouse, a night in a yurt camp with an evening fire and folk songs, and a visit to the holy spring of Nurata on the way to Bukhara.

Your trip is planned and run by Khikmatilla, a licensed Uzbek tour guide and founder of Tashkentguide DMC, with an experienced guide with you for all three days.

Itinerary

1. Day 1 - Samarkand - Nuratau mountains (approx. 220 km)
   Pickup from your Samarkand hotel and drive north-west to a village in the Nuratau range. After lunch, walk with a local host to rock carvings above the village. Dinner and overnight at a family guesthouse.

2. Day 2 - Nuratau - Aydarkul yurt camp
   After breakfast, drive to the edge of the Kyzylkum desert and the yurt camp. Ride a camel across the dunes, then continue to the shore of Lake Aydarkul for a swim in season. Evening dinner around the fire with a local akyn singer.
   Overnight in a yurt (shared facilities).

3. Day 3 - Nurata - Bukhara (approx. 230 km)
   Visit Nurata with its holy spring, sacred fish and the ruins of a fortress attributed to Alexander the Great. Continue to Bukhara, arriving in the afternoon at your hotel.
